Nancy Wynne Tells of Two Debutante Teas to Be Given This Afternoon—Other Debutante Plans Discussed. She Regrets the Death of Little Elizabeth Page

THERE are to be two debutante affairs this afternoon, so the buds will certainly be busy little persons. One tea will be in Chestnut Hill and the other in Ardmore. In Chestnut Hill Mary and Ellen Glendinning, daughters of Colonel and Mrs. Robert E. Glendinning, will be introduced to society at a tea. Mary would have come out last year and Ellen is not yet eighteen, but they decided to have the winter's fun together, and a stunning-looking pair of sisters they are!

A number of the season's debutantes will receive with them. Over in Ardmore Kathleen Ritter, daughter of Mr. A. Howard Ritter, will be presented at a tea which her father is giving. Kathleen's three married sisters—Mrs. Robert Meade Smith, Jr., Mrs. Robert W. Liget and Mrs. B. Vail Marsh—will receive with their father and Mrs. Walter Schuyler Volkmar will also receive. The debutante who is always such a pretty addition to the teas will be Sara Dolan, Pary Rosenzweig, Deborah Logan, Mary Goodman, Rhoda Brooke, Margaret Graham, Martha Baker, Harriet Zimmermann, Margaretta Sharpless, Eleanor Robb, Sarah Harrison and several others.

I WAS greatly saddened to hear of the death of little Elizabeth Page, the two-year-old daughter of Ned and Elizabeth Page. Poor baby! She was sick only two or three days and died on Monday. I have not heard what the illness was, but that, of course, is neither here nor there. The fact is, that she is no longer with us.

I am sure that every one's heart goes out to the bereaved parents. I remember seeing the dear little soul at Mrs. William Clothier's party show last year, and she was standing like a wee soldier to have her little silhouette cut out. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Page.

THE Harry Groomes arrived yesterday from Warrenton, Va., and have taken up their abode at the Wilmington, where they will spend the winter. Susan Groome, the daughter of Mr. Groome by his first marriage, will make her debut this winter. Though the tea is not to be given until November 20, Mr. and Mrs. Groome have very wisely sent their card already. It is well to get dates known far ahead.

As a matter of fact, I believe now there are more than one hundred debutantes in the field as it were. When the first news of the winter's onslaught in society came out it seemed already to be a great number, but far greater would be a gross number. At first there were seventy-four, then eighty-three, then 101, and now more than 110, and every day one hears of another one had not heard of before. Viola Homer, who is the guest of honor at a banquet, will be followed by a supper at the Ritz-Carlton on Thursday evening, November 13, given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. McElhenny, of Chestnut Hill.

Miss Mary Trotter Goodman, daughter of Mrs. Howard E. Seaver, will be the guest of honor at a banquet, to be given at the Atlantic Club, on Thursday evening, November 13, given by Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. McElhenny, of Chestnut Hill.
